4. Required

If, after a review of your application and documentation, it is determined that the ODA approve academic accommodations, appropriate forms will be completed and accommodation letters will be distributed. Your faculty or designated representative in your program will be notified of the recommended accommodations via email. If appropriate, students should

Specific recommendations as to what reasonable accommodations (such as note taker, extended testing time, sign language interpreter, etc.) are necessary for equal access in the academic environment. (Note: This does not ensure this specific accommodation will be provided.)

Only upon receipt of documentation will the student be considered for reasonable accommodation.
